Join Us For An Informative and Interactive
Hands-on MSK Saturday Workshop!
Learn, Scan, Network!

Topic: Hands-on MSK Workshop

Description:

The course will provide a comprehensive introduction to Musculoskeletal (MSK) Ultrasound, including anatomy, technique, and the sonographic appearance of normal and abnormal situations. Hands-on scanning is included as part of the course. (To ensure ample opportunity for all participants to scan, this course is limited to only the first 12 people who register and submit payment.

Course Objectives:

Upon completion of this educational activity, the participant will be able to:

- Explain proper technique and positioning to obtain optimal images when scanning the Shoulder, Elbow, Wrist, Knee, Ankle, and Foot
- Identify normal ultrasound anatomy of the Musculoskeletal System
- Define artifacts unique to MSK scanning
- Recognize and discuss ultrasound findings of musculoskeletal pathologies
- Demonstrate appropriate knobology, scanning technique, and image acquisition skills in scanning the Shoulder, Elbow, Wrist, Knee, Ankle, and Foot
- Describe advantages and limitations of Musculoskeletal Ultrasound

About Our Speaker:

Dr. Nandkumar Rawool is currently an Associate Professor and Program Director of the Diagnostic Medical Sonography and Cardiovascular Sonography Program at Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia, PA. Before accepting his current position, Dr Rawool spent over a decade in the Department of Ultrasound/Radiology at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. The TJUH Division of Ultrasound is considered to be one of the largest in the United States and probably the entire world. Dr. Rawool's work involved both clinical work with patients and performing ultrasound research. Dr. Rawool has more than 100 publications and scientific presentations - in Ultrasound and Radiology journals and international medical meetings.

Dr. Rawool has over 15 years experience in Musculoskeletal (MSK) Ultrasound and has published articles and co-authored a book, Ultrasound of the Hand and Upper Extremity – A Step-by-Step Guide. Dr. Rawool is a respected expert. He has lectured at numerous MSK conferences and has conducted training programs in Radiology, Orthopedics, and Sports Medicine – both for Physicians and Sonographers.
